Our world is not as it should be. There is pain, evil, and injustice all around us. In the age of social media, it is easier than ever to stay informed about all sorts of injustices, but is sending a tweet, posting a selfie, or sharing a video about an inspiring cause really all it takes to make a difference in the world? Or is it possible that justice is about something much more than a hashtag? In this 4-week series, you'll challenge students to not just post about the injustices around them, but to actually do something about them by loving mercy, acting justly, and walking humbly.

THE BIG IDEA
Do something.

THE BIBLE
- Ephesians 2:10; Micah 6.6-8
- John 6:1-13

- What's one way you've seen social media used to fight for justice?
- What's one way you've seen social media contribute to injustice?
- How did it feel to hear that you are God's "masterpiece" in Ephesians 2:10?
- How should knowing you are God's masterpiece change the way you view yourself? How should it change the way you view others?
- Are there any "good works" that you are involved with right now? If so, what are they? If not, what could some of those "good works" be?
- What are some of the world's greatest injustices right now?
- What might God be calling His people to do about those injustices?
- What's one way Christians today choose to make showy "sacrifices," like Micah described, instead of doing justice?
- Read John 6:1-13. What are your "loaves and fishes" that you can offer Jesus?
- Why do you think many movements, revolutions, and revivals begin with young people?
- What's one way you're going to "do something" this week?
