

Introduction:

We're all looking to maximize life—relationally, vocationally, socially and spiritually. We serve an amazing God who wants to bless us and use us to transform the world, but it's so easy to miss the magnitude of God's goodness when life feels unstable. This series will help us position ourselves to get the most out of our relationship with God and to recapture the awe and wonder of following Jesus.

Scripture:

He replied, "Whether he is a sinner or not, I don't know. One thing I do know. I was blind but now I see!"

—John 9:25

Discussion Questions:

1. Share about a time when someone in your life (including you) has “missed the point” of a moment or miracle. What does that feel like? What is it like to have “the point” illuminated for you?
2. Where is God at work around you right now?
3. What is your “All I know is...” statement? “All I know is, I was blind, but now I see.” “I was addicted, but now I’m sober.” “I was lonely, now I have companionship.” etc.

Take the Next Step:

Make an actual list of all the things God has done in your life. Take stock of all that God has done in you and around you. The next time you feel overwhelmed, look back at your list. The next time someone around you needs encouragement, look back at your list.
